Shaping the Future . . . Strengthening Families

The family has long been the focus of the Oklahoma Cooperative Extension Service. While Cooperative Extension programs have evolved with the needs and issues of the times, the primary goal remains the same - to enhance the economic well being of citizens through research-based community and family education.

Bringing the University to YOU . . .

Cooperative Extension Education is based on current information and research developed through the land-grant university system. The Oklahoma Cooperative Extension Service is a part of the Oklahoma State University.
Extension faculty in human sciences,
consumer sciences, and nutritional sciences at OSU develop teaching materials for use in Extension programs throughout the state. These programs include workshops and conferences,
study-at-home courses, work-site classes,
and presentations to community groups.
Extension's educational programs serve both urban and rural Oklahoma residents.

Oklahoma Cooperative Extension Service offers its programs to all eligible persons regardless of race, color, national origin, religion, sex, age or disability.

The dissolution of a marriage is hard on children. We can help you make it easier.

Co-Parenting is a 3-hour court-referred parenting class.

What Will I Learn?

1. To view dissolution of marriage as a change in the family, not the end of the family. The parents are no longer spouses; they are co-parents.
2. To help parents put their children first and consider children's needs during and following the dissolution.
3. To view the new family lifestyle from the child's perspective.
4. To learn how child development stages relate to appropriate parenting activities, visitation arrangements, the child's understanding of the issues, the family's life style and the child's social, emotional, and support needs.
5. To view co-parenting as a lifelong process, that goes beyond the current issues of the settlement, custody and visitation arrangements.
6. To understand the affects of stress, and how the grief process impacts adults and children as well as ways to manage stress.

Who Can Attend?

Parents who are in the process of ending their marriage, and concerned friends and family members may attend.

How Do I Sign Up?

You can register for a 3-hour class by completing and mailing the attached form with the $20 per participant registration fee to:

OSU Extension Center
201 W. Oklahoma
Anadarko, OK 73005

or call the office at (405) 247-3376. Participant's fees will be collected before class if registrations are made by phone.

A reduced fee is available for public assistance clients and court-approved affidavits.

What Else Do I Need To Know?

The class will be offered at the Caddo County Courthouse in the courtrooms located on the second floor.

Class times and dates may change.

Call and confirm class schedules. Any location changes will be posted. The instructor reserves the right to cancel a class due to scheduling conflicts or lack of participation (low enrollment).
